

Lipscomb Society

The Lipscomb Cottage serves as the State Office of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs and is our heritage. Our cottage is named in honor of Mary Ann Lipscomb. Mary Ann Rutherford Lipscomb (1848-1918) was an educator born in Athens, Georgia. She believed in childhood education, and she helped make primary education required for all children in Georgia. After she was widowed, she went to work at the Lucy Cobb Institute, under the direction of her sister, Mildred Lewis Rutherford; in 1895 Lipscomb took over leadership of that school. Lipscomb founded the Tallulah Falls School in 1909. She was a member of the Athens Woman's Club.

Join the Lipscomb Society and be a part of preserving the integrity of the building and interior of the cottage.

Membership is open to individuals, clubs, districts and can be renewed annually.
